

OVERVIEW

The Deltec Initiative for Young Entrepreneurs (“DIYE”) is a charitable effort that launched in November 2016 as part of the Deltec Initiatives Foundation. Our mission is to support budding, Bahamian entrepreneurs with:

- The development of their companies,
- Discovery of opportunities to enhance their business prospects, and
- The realization of their highest potential.

By partnering with enterprising, highly motivated, young Bahamian businesspersons, DIYE draws upon the professional expertise of Deltec staff to provide the entrepreneurs with guidance and opportunities to assist them in the growth and development of their businesses. This includes consulting with the entrepreneurs on their business plans and presentation skills, along with offering professional networking opportunities through Deltec’s extensive network of relationships.

DIYE is spearheaded by members of the Deltec family, entirely on a voluntary basis. The DIYE team consists of: Bannerman Campbell, Patricia Culmer, Phylcia DeGregory Brennen, Michelle Evans, Harold Munnings, Suncher Outten, Shanecia Rolle and Robert Turnquest.

If you are an enterprising, highly motivated, young Bahamian entrepreneur - with a business that could benefit from the institutional guidance and personalized support described above please complete the attached application.

Please submit all applications by July 16, 2021.
